

ROCK CLIMBING

THE COLORADO FLATIRON

FRIDAY, AUG. 14, TO WEDNESDAY, AUG. 19, 2009

 College of DuPage

Many aspiring climbers make their first multi-pitch ascent on the ochre-colored slabs of the Flatirons in Boulder Mountain Park. Attempt the 1,300-foot east face of the Third Flatiron, described by Yvon Chouhaid as the finest beginner route in the United States. Learn basic top-rope and multi-pitch climbing. Class: Wednesday, Aug. 5 (7 to 10 p.m.). An approximate fee of $375 includes ground transportation, lodging/camp fees, camping and climbing equipment, and some meals. Tuition is extra. For more information, call Bill Norris, (630) 942-2800, ext. 51323. To register, please call the Field and Interdisciplinary Studies office at (630) 942-2356.
